Message from RCMP

A reminder for students and parents that electric motorbikes are not permitted on city roads without being insured and licensed and the operator must have a driver's license to operate these vehicles. An electric bike is considered a motorcycle if it does not have a pedal power option. Bikes with pedal power are considered electric bicycles and do not require licensing. It has also been brought to our attention that electric scooters are also prohibited from being operated on roads or sidewalks. RCMP will be doing patrols to enforce these regulations and will be issuing fines to those operating these electric motorbikes or scooters. If you have questions about the rules and regulations as it relates to electric modes of transportation, please contact the RCMP for assistance.
